PM stems flow of Brexit resignations

Theresa May appeared to have stemmed the tide of Brexit resignations from her Government, as senior ministers rallied around the Prime Minister at the first meeting of her new Cabinet.

Leading Brexiteer Michael Gove left no doubt that he would not follow Boris Johnson and David Davis out of the Cabinet, declaring that he backed the Prime Minister's plans "100 per cent".

And International Trade Secretary Liam Fox was seen to shake his head and mouth the word "No" when reporters asked him on his way out of Cabinet whether he was about to quit.

Mrs May gathered her new team at 10 Downing Street as shockwaves continued to reverberate in Westminster following the first day since 1982 that two Cabinet ministers resigned within 24 hours.

Jeremy Hunt, appointed the new Foreign Secretary as the Prime Minister carried out a hurried reshuffle of her top team, vowed that he would be "four square" behind her in driving through her Brexit plan.

And Mr Gove said he was "absolutely not" planning to resign.

Asked whether Mrs May was in trouble following the rash of departures from her Government on Monday, the Environment Secretary replied: "No."

And he told reporters outside his London home: "I admire Boris and David very much and I'm sorry that they have left the Government."

Trump: Boris is my mate!

By WENDY THOMAS

news@sundaysport.co.uk

DONALD Trump risked sparking a diplomatic incident ahead of his visit to the UK by saying the country is 'in turmoil' and refusing to endorse Theresa May as PM.

The US President said it was 'up to the people' of Britain to decide whether Mrs May stayed on in Downing Street. He also heaped praise on his 'friend' Boris Johnson - who dramatically resigned from government over Brexit - and suggested he could meet him during the trip.

The comments come just days before he is due to fly into the country for a long-awaited working visit.

There are already fears of tensions after he publicly clashed with Mrs May over criticism of crime levels in London, the performance of the NHS, and retweeting posts from a far-right group.

Speaking to journalists as he set off for Europe, Mr Trump said there were a 'lot of things' going on in the UK at the moment and the country seemed to be 'somewhat in turmoil'.

"Boris Johnson's a friend of mine. He's been very, very nice to me. Very supportive," said Mr Trump.

"And maybe we'll speak to him when I get over there.

"I like Boris Johnson. I've always liked him."

However, he added that he had a 'very good relationship' with Mrs May.

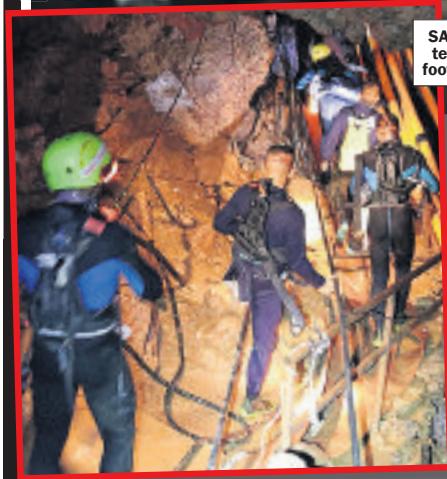

Mr Trump joked that his meeting with Russian President Vladimir Putin might be the 'easiest' leg of his trip to Europe.

He said: "I have Nato, I have the UK - that's a situation with turmoil. And I have Putin. Frankly, Putin may be the easiest of all."

On his trip to Europe, he added: "It's going to be an interesting time in the UK and an interesting time at Nato.

"We will work it out and all countries will be happy."

SAVED: Rescue team (left) got football team out

A DARING rescue mission in the treacherous flooded cave in Thailand has saved 12 boys and their football coach who were trapped deep within the labyrinth.

The rescue operation ended an 18-day ordeal that claimed the life of an experienced diver and riveted people around the world.

Cheers erupted at a local government office, where volunteers and journalists awaited news of whether the intricate and high-risk rescue mission had succeeded, just as helicopters taking the boys to hospital roared overhead.

Miracle

Thailand's navy SEALs, who were central to the rescue effort, said on their Facebook page that the remaining four boys and their 25-year-old coach were all brought out safely on Tuesday.

"Everyone is safe." Payap Maiming, 40, who provided food and necessities to rescue workers, said a "miracle" had happened.

appeared to be wearing a red replica England football shirt.

Seven divers in the rescue team were from the UK, including Rick Stanton and John Volanthen, who were the first to reach the group last week.

"We are not sure if this is a miracle, a science, or what. All the thirteen Wild Boars are now out of the cave," the SEALs said, referring to the name of the boys' football team.

They were trapped in the Tham Luan Nang Non cave on June 23, as they were exploring it after football practice and it became flooded by monsoon rains.

Each of the boys, aged 11 to 16 and with no diving experience, was guided out by a pair of divers in three days of intricate and high-stakes operations.

The route, in some places just a crawl space, had oxygen canisters positioned at regular intervals to refresh each team's air supply.

Permanent secretary at the Public Health Ministry, Jedsada Chokdumrongsuk, said it could be at least seven days before the boys can be released from hospital.

Family members have seen at least some of the boys from behind a glass barrier.

CRAIG WANTS SIMON ON SHOW

STRICTLY Come Dancing star Craig Revel Horwood says he wants Simon Cowell to appear on the Beeb's dancing show.

The 53-year-old judge (right) said Cowell, who stars in weekend ratings rival The X Factor, would be perfect for the BBC's celeb dance contest.

Boost

And he cheekily said an appearance on the show would help Cowell boost ratings for his ITV programme.

Craig said: "I would love to see Simon Cowell take to the dance floor.

"If he comes on our show we'll improve his ratings for the year."

Strictly has regularly topped the Saturday night TV ratings, often beating The X Factor in the process.

And Craig said it's the chemistry of the judges and presenters that has made it so popular.

He added: "It's the best Saturday job anyone could have."

HOWARD GEARS UP FOR C4

TAKE That star Howard Donald is set to co-host Channel 4's new car show, Mission Ignition.

The 50-year-old singer (right) and amateur racing driver – who has competed in events at Le Mans and Silverstone – will hook up with three-time Indianapolis 500 winner and four-time IndyCar Series champ Dario Franchitti.

The pair will lead two teams of amateur car enthusiasts as they're given the opportunity to win their dream motor – but they have to BUILD IT first!

Howard said: "Being given the chance to see these historic cars rebuilt is fantastic."

Churchill's man Carrington dies

TRIBUTES have been paid to the former foreign secretary Lord Carrington of Upton, who has died at the age of 99.

The last surviving member of Sir Winston Churchill's post-war government, Peter Carrington famously resigned from Margaret Thatcher's Cabinet in 1982 after taking responsibility for the Argentinian invasion of the Falkland Islands.

He had previously chaired the Lancaster House talks in 1979 which led to the establishment of the state of Zimbabwe, and later served as secretary general of Nato from 1984-88.

Downing Street described his death as "very sad news", while Prime Minister Theresa May's effective deputy, David Lidington, paid tribute to "a career given to public service".

GUILTY: MUM AND GRAN WHO LET TEEN BOY ROT TO DEATH ON AIRBED

UNCARING:
Denise and Dawn Cranston and Abigail Burling

TRAGIC:
Jordan

By HARRY CLARE

news@sundaysport.co.uk

Crown Court unanimously convicted his 45-year-old mother Dawn Cranston, as well as his grandmother, Denise Cranston, 70.

Vulnerable

Jordan Burling, 18, was said to have resembled the victim of a WWII death camp when paramedics found him lying lifelessly on the makeshift mattress, weighing just six stones. He was covered in bed sores, and was wearing a soiled nappy when he died from bronchopneumonia at his home in the Farnley area of Leeds in June 2016.

Yesterday, a jury at Leeds

During the five-week trial, prosecutor Nicholas Lumley QC described the extent of the neglect the two relatives showed towards the teen, telling jurors: "Jordan had been allowed to decay, to rot to death, by those closest to him, over a period of at least several weeks."

Medic Bridget Shepherd, claimed the dying man looked "very, very pale and very emaciated" when she first attempted to treat him on June 30, 2016, the day of his death.

She added that his bone structure was clearly visible and that his mother had claimed that he "had not been eating for a few weeks".

A series of witnesses claimed Jordan's mother "did not seem bothered" as medics tried to revive him.

Dawn Cranston was even heard telling a 999 operator shortly before Mr Burling's death that his unresponsive state was a "blessing" as it meant she would not have to go work that day.

PC Ben McNamara, who arrived at the home just hours after the teenager's death, claimed that the first thing the deceased's mother asked him was how much the funeral would cost.

Prior to the trial, Dawn Cranston admitted trying to conceal a birth after hiding the remains of her dead baby in a rucksack for 14 years.

Jada tells of her sex addiction

GOTHAM star Jada Pinkett Smith has opened up about her past struggles with SEX addiction.

The actress discussed the topic of addiction during an episode of her Facebook series Red Table Talk.

A fan asked Jada (above), 46, if she'd ever faced addiction, to which she replied: "When I was younger, I definitely think I had a sex addiction of some kind, that everything could be fixed by sex."

In a previous episode Jada admitted, in front of her daughter Willow, 17, that she was went through "kind of an addiction" with sex toys, confessing: "I've had a lot of experience with sex toys – lots."

"I don't think I used toys with a partner, but I did use toys a lot alone. I gave myself multiple orgasms."

"I actually think like I went through kind of an addiction too with it. One day I was like, enough, I was having like five orgasms a day. You can create so much pleasure, you just constantly want it."

Love Island babe splits from lover

By BECCA STUBBS
news@sundaysport.co.uk

LOVE Island presenter Caroline Flack revealed yesterday she has split from fiancé Andrew Brady.

The pair got engaged in April following a whirlwind two-month romance.

Caroline, 38, confirmed news of their break up in a statement.

She said: "I'm sad to announce that Andrew and I have decided to part ways. Unfortunately it was not to be. I wish him all the best. At least there's a Villa waiting for me. It's back to the ol' grafting."

Emoji

Former Apprentice star Andrew, 27, also shared a statement to his Instagram page revealing the relationship was over.

After the news broke, Caroline shared a single emoji of a crying face to her Twitter page.

Only last week Caroline had gushed about her fiancé in an open letter published in Cosmopolitan magazine.

The unlucky in love star spoke of her dating highs and lows and revealed how things were different with this time round.

She wrote: "People talk about meeting someone and feeling as though you've known them your whole life. That's what it felt like

GUSHING:
Caroline had told of how Andrew was the best when I met you. Talking to you was effortless – just two people laughing and getting to know each other until the early hours. It was how all first dates should be."

Caroline – who previously dated Harry Styles and Prince Harry – said her relationship with Andrew was like nothing she's ever experienced before.

She said: "We laugh until we cry. I've never had that before – with anyone. Every other relationship I've had has only been about love, but with you it's about friendship, too."

"My life was complete before you came into it – a man doesn't complete your life. But I wanted to make room in it for you."

Earlier this month, Caroline unveiled a permanent tribute to Andrew, revealing she'd got his initials tattooed on her inner wrist alongside two tiny hearts joined together.

Bystander dies after pub brawl

A BYSTANDER who was attacked following a fight outside a pub has died in hospital.

Police are looking at CCTV footage after the 31-year-old victim was found with severe head injuries in Willenhall, near Walsall, West Mids, in the early hours of Monday.

Officers were called to reports of a fight outside The Malthouse pub after midnight.

The injured man had been in a critical condition.

Det Insp Justin Spanner, of West Mids Police, said: "We understand there was a fight that ended with a bystander being attacked, and shockingly he passed away at hospital a matter of hours later alongside family members."

"At this time no arrests have been made, but our officers have worked through the night to secure CCTV, witness accounts and vital evidence from the scene."

"If anyone witnessed the attack, or has any information, please call us."

Queen's tribute to 100 years of RAF

THE Queen has praised the Royal Air Force for its "tenacity, skill and gallantry" as she was joined by the royal family to mark the force's 100th year.

In the forecourt of Buckingham Palace yesterday as she presented the Queen's Colour to the RAF, she spoke of the "remarkable contribution to defence" over the last 100 years.

A vast array of more than 100 RAF aircraft roared and thundered across the skies of London as the Queen and members of the royal family watched the display of military aircraft from the palace balcony.

The Queen spoke proudly not only as the RAF's Air Commodore-in-Chief, but also as a citizen who remembered the Battle of Britain.

She said: "Presenting the Royal Air Force with a new Queen's Colour provides an opportunity to congratulate the service for your remarkable contribution to defence over the last 100 years."

"I remember the Battle of Britain being fought over the skies above us and we shall never forget the courage and sacrifice of that time."

Also present was the Prince of Wales and Duchess of Cornwall, the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge, and the Duke and Duchess of Sussex who attended a service at Westminster Abbey.

College doc
'posted porn
pics online'

A 60-YEAR-OLD college employee posted "disgusting" porn videos of herself online, a tribunal heard.

Colleagues had seen "pretty grim" video of Dr Robyn Williams (above) "readying herself for sex" and talking to the camera.

She was accused of unprofessional conduct by posing for and posting indecent images on Twitter, and for appearing in a link to a porn video.

An Education Workforce Council panel also heard Dr Williams, who worked at the Grwp Llandrillo Rhos-on-Sea campus from 2006, heard allegations that some of the images were intended for publication in an adult magazine.

Accused of a "lack of integrity", her case was before a Fitness to Practise hearing, but Dr Williams did not turn up for it.

She said via email that the images were for a "top shelf magazine" and were not pornographic but erotic.

The hearing continues.

Take a skinny dip Saturday

WHATEVER the weather, throw off all your clothes and jump in a lake on Saturday.

That's the message from the American Association for Nude Recreation which, after a meeting of its organising committee, has "officially designated the second Saturday in July as International Skinny Dip Day."

The AANR calls "Skinny-dipping, a wholesome tradition as old as mankind and frequently honoured in art and movies. It celebrates the natural joy of plunging into water without the hindrance of clothing."

For the more modest, AANR encourages those in the "textile world" to observe the day in the privacy of a backyard pool, a secluded spot on a river or lake, or at a sanctioned nude beach or at one of AANR's 200 clubs and resorts, mainly in America.

FURY OF A CHEATED WIFE WHOSE HUSBAND HAD SEX WITH SON'S LOVER

But she wanted to save marriage, court told

By COLIN HURST news@sundaysport.co.uk

A WOMAN whose ex-Royal Marine husband allegedly strangled her to death had stuck by him despite his affair with their son's partner as she felt she was "too old to start again", a court heard.

Former Ukip councillor Stephen Searle, 64, denies the murder of his 62-year-old wife Anne Searle and is on trial at Ipswich Crown Court.

Prosecutors say Searle probably used a choke hold to kill her after a row about his affair with Anastasia Pomiateeva at their home in Stowmarket, Suffolk, on December 30 last year.

Kelly Lawrence, a colleague of Mrs Searle at sushi producer Ichiban UK, told jurors that one day in August last year Mrs Searle "looked unhappy" and they had a conversation.

"She informed me that she found out that her husband was having an affair, but at the time she didn't know if it was a male or female he was having an affair with," Ms Lawrence said.

"She said he had done it before but she wasn't sure what was going on at the time."

Bruising

She said Mrs Searle had posted screenshots of text messages between her husband and the other party on Facebook, but later removed them.

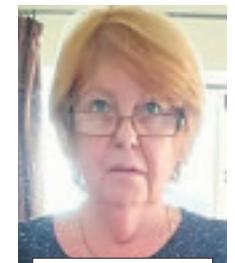

"I think in the end she confronted him about it," Ms Lawrence said.

"He admitted to it and said it was with their daughter-in-law."

The confrontation had ended in an argument, Ms Lawrence said, and Mrs Searle had smashed her husband's phone up.

She said that on another occasion she noticed bruising on Mrs Searle's arms, and her colleague said it was caused by her husband.

"She had called the police but wasn't going to press charges against him," she said. "She wanted to make her marriage work and sort it out."

MODEL SO PLEASED WITH HER NEW FANNY

CELEB Big Brother babe Danielle Lloyd has revealed her FANNY has never looked better – after having hi-tech surgery to tighten up her downstairs.

The sexy model, 34, said she's thrilled with the results, after splashing £2,000 to get her love tunnel back to its best.

After finishing a course of the procedure, which involves sticking a laser up her chuff which heats up internal bits, she said: "I've finally finished my vaginal rejuvenation course.

"I couldn't be happier with the results. I can see the difference already!"

The boffins who created the Femilift treatment claim it encourages collagen to grow, which makes fannies tight and elastic again – fighting the effects of age and childbirth.

Treat

And Danielle reckons all women should treat themselves to a new mimsy.

She added: "I'd definitely encourage other women to look into it and most importantly not to be embarrassed about it."

"I've had so many messages from women who thanked me for speaking out.

"It wasn't painful at all, it took 10 minutes to do. It was quick and easy.

"You lie on a coach, they put a probe inside, which has a laser on, they turn it around, then pull it out. Literally, I can't tell you how much it's worked.

"£2,000 gets you three treatments – you have it every four weeks...and then you're brand new again!"

SPEAKER John Bercow has pledged to go on a walk around the Houses of Parliament to check claims that the entrances "are filthy with a smell of urine and vomit".

Mr Bercow (above), 55, made the promise after Labour MP Barry Sherman complained in the Commons.

Mr Sherman, raising a point of order, said: "Most of our entrances to this great royal palace are filthy with a smell of urine, vomit and dirt and, well I don't want to go into detail to what you can see at the entrance."

"Isn't it about time that somebody did something about this?"

Mr Bercow responded: "Insofar as he is concerned about what might be called malodorous matters, I'm not unconscious of that phenomenon."

Mr Sherman then invited Mr Bercow to join him on a walk around the palace, so he "can see it in person".

The Speaker said: "I daresay we will have a little toddle round the Palace of Westminster together."

By BECCA STUBBS becca@sundaysport.co.uk

GORGEOUS actress Natalie Dormer says getting naked in her new movie was a good thing – after critics slammed the nuddy scenes as 'gratuitous'.

The 36-year-old stunner, who starred as Princess Maerya in Game of Thrones, has a raunchy sex scene and is also caught naked in a shower in her latest film In Darkness.

Prudish naysayers claim the boobs-out clips are unnecessary and go against Natalie's personal feminist political stance.

Blasted

But she blasted them saying: "You learn that when you make something that no matter how pure your intentions are, other people will see things in it."

"There has to be sexuality in the power play of a thriller. We have all got bodies after all."

"In this film, the sex scene – which for me was a lovemaking scene – is a metaphor for the way that my character connects with the part played by Ed Skrein."

"Nakedness is a good equalizer and the shower scene also shows the tattoos on my character's body and makes it clear she is not quite what you think."

"If the characters do not have a clear connection then it doesn't work."

"And it has to be a physical connection."

"In a thriller the protagonists have to join together somehow and sex represents that connection."

The sexual orientation of men, however, did not appear to have much effect on their rates of orgasm.

And a study of 53,000 Americans produced slightly different numbers, but with the same trends. In this instance, lesbians reported coming 86 per cent of the time during sex, as opposed to 65 per cent for straight women.

Sex therapist Matty Silver said: "Lesbian women know where their clitoris is and know what to do with it to get an orgasm. They don't need to show their lesbian partner what to do."

MOVIE BOSS HARVEY DENIES NEW SEX CLAIMS

IN COURT: Movie mogul is said to have sexually assaulted a string of women

But lawyer says more may follow

MOVIE producer Harvey Weinstein has pleaded not guilty to charges of sexually assaulting a woman in 2006.

It is the third criminal sex assault case brought against him and his lawyer says he expects further charges to follow.

More than 70 women, mostly young actresses and other women employed in the movie business, have accused Weinstein of sexual misconduct, including rape, in a series of incidents dating back decades. The accusations against Weinstein sparked the #MeToo movement that has seen hundreds of women publicly accuse powerful men in business, politics and entertainment of harassment and abuse, lifting a shroud that had long shielded such behaviour.

Dressed in a dark suit and tie, the 66-year-old co-founder of the Miramax film studio was brought handcuffed into a Manhattan court to face the latest charges.

New York state Supreme Court Justice James Burke rejected prosecutors' request to order house arrest for Weinstein, allowing him to remain free on the £1m bail that has been in effect since he pleaded not guilty in June to charges he assaulted two other women.

He was subdued throughout the hearing, pleading "not guilty" and responding "yes, sir" when the judge told him to stay away from his accusers.

Weinstein was charged after a months-long investigation by the New York Police Department.

journalists afterwards: "Mr Weinstein is not a predator, he is not a rapist, and he will be exonerated" but conceded that he believed more charges may follow.

Prosecutor Joan Illuzzi said that the number of Weinstein accusers "shows the breadth of the criminality here".

Prosecutors contend Weinstein forcibly performed oral sex on the woman in 2006. The latest charges carry a maximum life sentence.

Earlier charges included two counts of rape and one count of criminal sexual act.

THE GREAT TRAINING RUBBERY!

ENGLAND stars had a RUBBERY time at their last training session before tonight's crunch semi.

Boss Gareth Southgate had his players attacking each other in a warm-up drill with rubber chickens! The lads could be seen throwing the chickens between them and then tackling one another to the ground as Southgate put them through their paces at their training base in Repino. It was all part of Southgate's unorthodox approach to preparations and his way of taking some of the tension out of the big match build-up.

Some observers thought it might have been an attempt to help them with their quick movements ahead of a game where every minor advantage could be vital.

Others just thought it was a bunch of really close mates having a good laugh together.

And we prefer that explanation!

Shops to shut for an England final

SOME supermarkets are set to close their doors early amid signs of a quiet Sunday afternoon on the High Street if England make it through to the World Cup final.

In the event of a win against Croatia on Wednesday, Aldi and Lidl stores across England will close early at 3pm on Sunday – an hour before kick-off.

Figures suggest the early closures are likely to be of little concern to shoppers, with footfall on the high street down 18.9% during England's quarter final clash with Sweden on Saturday afternoon.

ENGLAND skipper Harry Kane can complete a unique clean sweep tonight. So far in his England career he's scored a goal on every day of the week...except Wednesday! He can finish the job tonight – and send the Croatians packing!

COP A LOAD OF THESE TV BOOBS!

Hot babes from the nation's favourite crime shows... NAKED & TOPLESS

By BECCA STUBBS becca@sundaysport.co.uk

BRITAIN loves a good TV crime show – and we've produced some of the best in the world.

The Radio Times has canvassed the Great British public and compiled our favourite 50 cop shows.

Well, we've dug even deeper and today bring you some of the great stars of those shows... topless and naked!

The great Inspector Morse series – based on the books by Colin Dexter – was voted the top whodunit of all time, beating off stiff competition from the likes of Foyle's War and Line of Duty.

But which show has the babe with the best breasts?

Well, cop a load of these beauties and you deduce the answer to that very tricky question!

CLARE HOLMAN (INSPECTOR MORSE)

COLIN Dexter's Oxford policeman transformed crime shows on the box and is your all-time No.1 cop show.

Clare Holman, 54, as Pathologist Laura Hobson gave as good as she got when she dealt with Morse and even shacked up with Lewis after his divorce.

She whipped out her boobs in 1991's Afraid of the Dark.

SARAH LANCASHIRE (HAPPY VALLEY)

FORMER Corrie babe Angela Griffin was a welcome addition as DS Lizzie Maddox in Lewis, but sadly she never whipped out her breasts on the show.

However, the 41-year-old did treat us to an eyeful during a break in the sun in Spain in 1996.

ONE of the BBC's biggest cop show hits saw the nation gripped by Sarah Lancashire's troubled character Catherine Cawood. Sarah, 53, has not been one to flaunt her boobs, but we did manage to catch a glimpse a while back when she was sunbathing on her hols.

THANDIE NEWTON (LINE OF DUTY)

THANDIE Newton swapped Hollywood for Cricklewood and a surprise role in Line of Duty, which bags her third spot.

It was a far cry from the sexy things the 45-year-old got up to in Bernardo Bertolucci's love story Besieged opposite actor David Thewlis.

ANGELA GRIFFIN (LEWIS)

SURANNE JONES
(SCOTT & BAILEY)

THIS cheeky snap of Suranne Jones, 39, giving us a glimpse of her magic mammarys is just the job to celebrate her show Scott & Bailey making it into the best cop show list at No.18...

MORVEN CHRISTIE (GRANTCHESTER)

GRANTCHESTER might only come in at No.33 in The Radio Times all-time greats list, but it was 34-year-old star Morven Christie's GREAT CHESTERS that caught the eye when she appeared in the BBC thriller Hunted.

AMANDA REDMAN (CLOSE RELATIONS)

SEXY Amanda Redman, 60, was the cold case boss in charge of the old codgers team, but it was in the 1998 TV mini-series Close Relations that she gave us this cracking view of her BREATHTAKING boobs.

HELEN MIRREN (PRIME SUSPECT)

HELEN Mirren's celebrated portrayal of police chief Jane Tennison has won her all kinds of awards and lifted the show to No.13 on The Radio Times list.

But we reckon the 72-year-old should get a special prize for her boobs, which she proudly displayed in the 1969 film Age of Consent.

LUCY COHU (MAIGRET)

ROWAN Atkinson's revival of legendary French tec Maigret wasn't really to everyone's taste but made it to No.27 in the chart. But there was no disputing the universal appeal of its 49-year-old star Lucy Cohu's breasts in the 2005 movie The Queen's Sister.

VICKY MCCLURE (LINE OF DUTY)

SILENT Witness is in at No.28 but we reckon if we'd seen more of 43-year-old Emilia Fox's tasty top rack – like here in 2008 movie Consuming Passion – on the show it would have leaped a LOT higher.

EMILIA FOX (SILENT WITNESS)

SILENT Witness is in at No.28 but we reckon if we'd seen more of 43-year-old Emilia Fox's tasty top rack – like here in 2008 movie Consuming Passion – on the show it would have leaped a LOT higher.

HELEN Mirren's celebrated portrayal of police chief Jane Tennison has won her all kinds of awards and lifted the show to No.13 on The Radio Times list.

But we reckon the 72-year-old should get a special prize for her boobs, which she proudly displayed in the 1969 film Age of Consent.

JENNY SEAGROVE (JUDGE JOHN DEED)

JENNY Seagrove might be 61 now but she is still a stunning babe – as she showed as QC Jo Mills in the Beeb's longest-running legal drama Judge John Deed.

Back in 1990, when she stripped off for a bath scene in the movie The Guardian, perky Jenny was even tastier!

COP A LOAD OF THESE TV BOOBS!

TARA FITZGERALD (WAKING THE DEAD)

WE don't understand why Trevor Eve's cold case chief Peter Boyd is so gloomy all the time when he's surrounded by such an array of top toto, including 50-year-old Tara Fitzgerald - whose delicate little bumpers made a welcome appearance in the BBC drama The Camomile Lawn. Waking the Dead made it to No.37 in the Top 50.

PHYLLIS LOGAN (LOVEJOY)

LOVEJOY made it to No.35 and the popular lovable rogue's relationship with Lady Jane, played by Phyllis Logan, was a big part of its appeal.

Phyllis, 62, showed her sexy side when she stripped for the romantic wartime drama Another Time, Another Place in 1983.

JILL GASCOINE (THE GENTLE TOUCH)

JILL Gascoine just squeezed onto the list at No.49 with The Gentle Touch, but the 81-year-old squeezed out of her top for this raunchy scene in the 1975 comic caper Confessions of a Pop Performer.

CAROLINE Catz had to put up with serious-faced DCI Banks (Stephen Tompkinson).

At No.45 in the all-time list, the 48-year-old was the bright spot in some gruesome yarns - and she's not afraid to strip, as she showed on stage in the controversial play *Shopping & F***ing*.

SHERIDAN SMITH (JONATHAN CREEK)

SHERIDAN Smith, 37, was a big part of the success of Jonathan Creek - which reached No.43 in The Radio Times list - but it might have been even more successful if she'd flashed as much flesh on it as she did on stage in West End Bares at London's Café de Paris in 2011.

OLIVIA COLMAN (BROADCHURCH)

BROADCHURCH had us all guessing for weeks as the suspense grew, but there was no surprise when people voted it in at No.15. And it's no wonder with Olivia Colman, 44, who happily flashed her boobs in the 2006 mockumentary Confetti.

'Saudi' con man caught eating pork

A FAKE prince's 20-year con collapsed when a property developer he was trying to dupe saw him eating PORK.

Prosecutors say Anthony Gignac posed as a Saudi prince for two decades, but was really from Colombia.

The 47-year-old's eventual capture came in November, when he was caught travelling from London to New York with a passport under a different name.

Gignac's scam appears to date back to 1991, when he passed himself off as a Saudi prince to defraud a hotel of around £7,000.

He continued to live the life of a wealthy foreign royal, with a penthouse apartment in Miami and top cars.

Gignac brought his princely alter-ego out again in March 2017, trying to get Jeffrey Soffer of the Turnberry Associates to make a £400m investment.

But Soffer grew suspicious when he saw the man who claimed he was Muslim eating dishes containing pork.

Gignac pleaded guilty to fraud charges and will be sentenced next month.

CRAZED STALKER'S THREAT TO CHOP OFF EX'S WILLY AND MAKE HIM EAT IT!

A CRAZED stalker has been jailed for sending sick threats to her ex-partner – saying she would cut off his genitals and put them in his mouth.

Obsessed Gemma Heppolette, 42, repeatedly threatened to shoot Heath Booton and once said she would "slice up" his current partner.

She also vowed to blow up a gig by the rock singer's band XLR, Plymouth Crown Court heard.

Mr Booton said in a statement that his life had been made an "absolute misery".

Heppolette bombarded him with 71 messages over a period of 13 months in a vicious campaign of harassment, despite court order telling her to stay away.

It is the third set of offences Heppolette has committed against Mr Booton over four years – with the victim and his family only getting peace once she was behind bars.

Jailing her for four years and eight months, Judge James Townsend said: "This was a deliberate, lengthy and highly malicious campaign requiring considerable planning and foresight.

"In his own words, you have made his life an absolute misery. It has affected his relationships, his working life and his mental health.

Vile

"What you have done is as bad, if not worse, than an actual serious physical assault."

Heppolette, of Stoke, admitted stalking Mr Booton, putting him in fear of violence, between February last year and March this year.

She also admitted repeatedly contacting him via social media in breach of a restraining order over the same period.

The offences put her in breach of a suspended prison sentence for earlier breaches of the restraining order.

She was handed a two-year term suspended for two years in February 2017.

REALITY TV babe Jemma Lucy and her glamour model pal gave neighbours a surprise treat when then stripped down to their bikinis for a sexy car wash.

The pair were outside Jemma's Manchester home when they took advantage of the sizzling weather to buff up Jemma's fancy Mercedes.

And it looks like the Celebrity Big Brother babe had a lot of fun with Laura-Alicia Summers – the nearly bare pals couldn't stop giggling as their chore descended into a sexy water fight.

Jemma, 30, and Ex on the Beach star Laura-Alicia, 33, just about kept their impressive boobs under wraps during their soapy display – but they're not always so shy.

Jemma is known to happily strip off to reveal her 36DDs, while pal Laura-Alicia frequently whips out her 32C melons.

A pal said: "The girls had a whale of a time."

Defamation battle actor quits play

OSCAR-winning actor Geoffrey Rush has pulled out of a Shakespeare stage production in Australia as he sues a Sydney newspaper for defamation.

Melbourne Theatre Company artistic director Brett Sheehy said he has received confirmation of Rush's withdrawal from the role of Malvolio in a seven-week season of Twelfth Night that begins in November.

"I do so with the greatest regret. I know I would not be able to provide the necessary creative spirit and the professional stamina required," Rush, 67, said in his statement.

The Australian actor (above) is suing Sydney's The Daily Telegraph for defamation over articles published in December that accused him of inappropriate behaviour towards actress Eryn Jean Norville during the Sydney Theatre Company's production of King Lear in 2015.

Rush has denied the allegation and argues the articles portray him as a pervert and sexual predator.

DRINK-DRIVER TRIED TO LIGHT CIG ON A BLAZING CAR

A MAN was arrested for drink-driving after he was spotted trying to light a cigarette in the flames of his burning car.

Robert Quigley, 25, was doing over 80mph when he rear-ended a 4x4 that was stopped in traffic at around 2pm on Sunday.

Amazingly, no-one was seriously injured in the crash and the incident is under investigation.

A cop spotted the car after it burst into flames and turned around in traffic to help – before catching Quigley trying to switch seats with his female passenger.

Eye brows

A witness reported seeing a shirtless man running back to the burning car in a bid to light a cigarette off his incinerated car and singed his eyebrows off. A few minutes later,

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

he tried to run into the fire, according to the police log.

As he was being given a breath test at the scene in Citrus Heights, California, Quigley told the officer: "Yeah, I'm not afraid of fire. I deal with this kind of stuff all the time."

He was hauled off to the Sacramento County Main Jail and charged with driving under the influence.

Ebay bans 6yo burger

AN online auction for a six-year-old McDonald's burger and fries has been shut down by eBay after bids reached over £100.

Dave Alexander listed the historic cheeseburger meal on the site with a series of pictures showing how little it had changed over the years.

The farmer, from Ontario, purchased the meal on June 7, 2012, as an experiment into McDonald's food and claims it never rots.

He told a local radio station: "I had heard rumours about these things not going bad."

"We live on a farm, and things that we grow here go bad regularly and I thought it was an urban legend."

But eBay has now pulled the advert from its site because it violates its food policy, which requires all food to have a "clearly marked expiration or use by date".

The 30G brunette beauty says she does enjoy a man returning the favour, but she gets more turned on feeling a penis fill up her mouth.

Curvy Krystal said: "When it comes to oral sex, I honestly prefer giving to receiving.

"I like having a guy's balls in my mouth, too. They really get off on it."

"Don't get me wrong, I love it when a guy goes down on me, but it just pleases me more to know he's feeling good."

And Krystal added: "I really like giving blowjobs. There's something sexy about having a guy's dick in my mouth."

Ryanair to cancel 30 flights

RYANAIR is to cancel up to 30 flights between Ireland and the UK on Thursday over a planned strike by its pilots.

The budget airline said that all Ireland to Europe flights will operate as normal.

The cancellations follow a decision by Ryanair pilots to hold a strike earlier this month after they voted overwhelmingly (99 per cent) in favour of industrial action.

They say the Dublin-based carrier is not taking its demands seriously over pay and conditions, issues over seniority and annual leave.

Customers were told of the cancellations by text and email yesterday and will also receive a refund.

The company said it will help customers travelling to the UK with alternative transport – both flights and ferries – where space is available.

Management and unions are due to meet on Wednesday at Dublin Airport in a bid to minimise disruption.

He also had a red mark on his chest, which he said was the result of Saunders hitting him.

Saunders (above) is alleged to have flown into a rage when her boyfriend switched the TV channel.

LIAM HITS BACK AT 'KNOB' NEIGHBOURS

LIAM Gallagher has hit back at claims he has already fallen out with his new neighbours after moving into a £2.1m home in Highgate, North London.

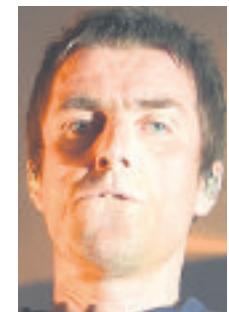

The 45-year-old rocker took to Twitter after it was reported that he called his neighbours "knobs" and "pricks" after he caught them looking at him.

He tweeted: "I've met my neighbours either side of me and there fantastic people very unlike the stalkers who were stood outside my house the other day with there binoculars dribbling into their cafe latte's it's coming home as you were LG x." [sic]

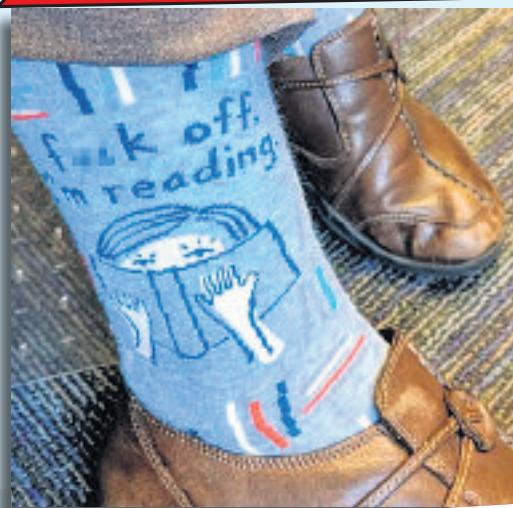

A neighbour reportedly said: "My heart sank when I saw Liam moving his stuff in. A friend and I were watching him enter his home and he shouted at us at the very top of his voice, 'What the f**k are you two knobs bogging at? You wanna take my f**king picture, do you? Pricks'.

Liam has downsized after previously living in a swanky £3.25m five-bedroom home which was nearby.

And while he hasn't denied the words used, Liam has said on social media that the person in question certainly was not a direct neighbour of his.

WOMAN HID A FIST-SIZED BAG OF DRUGS UP HER VAGINA

A WOMAN is facing drug charges after police found a packet of drugs the size of a FIST in her MIMSY.

Desiree Webster, 20, was nicked in Shawano, Wisconsin, after cops pulled her over in her car.

Her companion, 39-year-old Jaral McCollum – a convicted drug dealer – was also in the vehicle.

Officers pulled over the motor after getting a tip that McCollum might be selling heroin, cocaine, marijuana, meth and other drugs.

Dog

Police said McCollum's M.O. was to travel with a woman who would slip the drugs into her vagina if police stopped them.

A police dog showed particular interest in the driver's seat, where Webster had been sitting at the time of the police stop.

After a corrections officer then performed a strip search on Webster, she suggested there was something hidden in her fandango.

A CT scan of Webster's pelvic area, taken later at a hospital, showed something that looked like a plastic bag about the size of a human fist.

Emergency room doctor Ryan Murphy said it's not uncommon for drug dealers to smuggle contraband inside various orifices.

He said: "It's common that you would see them inside of condoms, inside of bags, inside of cling film.

"People try to get creative, and they try to pack as much as they can into a very small container, and it's very common to actually see these containers or transport devices rupture."

Officers said they found nearly 82g of drugs inside Webster.

Delirium

Mr Murphy said that if the bag had ruptured while inside Webster, she would have most likely died.

"With the cocaine you're going to be in this like excited delirium state and the heart's going to be going really fast, and they'll be running a high fever and you know the body will kind of shut down from that and you'll die," he added.

Webster was charged with six drug counts, including two counts of THC possession, possession with intent to deliver cocaine and possession with intent to deliver meth.

She was also charged with eight counts of bail jumping stemming from an earlier case that remains pending.

McCollum was charged with four counts, including possession with intent to deliver cocaine, possession with intent to deliver meth and possession with intent to deliver synthetic cannabinoids.

Giant croc's caught near tourist area

WILDLIFE rangers in northern Australia have trapped a 15ft saltwater crocodile, the largest they have ever caught in the area.

The crocodile was captured in a region popular with tourists that is considered relatively safe from the killer predators.

Northern Territory Parks and Wildlife said it had trapped the 1,400lb reptile more than 180 miles from the ocean and less than 20 miles from Katherine Gorge, a major attraction outside the town of Katherine.

Tourists swim, canoe and take cruises in the gorge among freshwater crocodiles, a different species that are small, timid and rarely harm humans.

Ranger John Burke said authorities had been hunting the large crocodile for more than a decade.

He said: "On record, this is the biggest saltwater crocodile removed from the area."

'Teen fantasies'
Miss in court

A LAWYER for a former high school teacher charged with having sex with a student says the accusations are simply "teenage fantasies".

Scott Gardner told a court that his client Jill Lamontagne (above) did not have sex with the student.

Lamontagne, 29, is facing multiple charges, including gross sexual assault, sexual abuse of a minor and unlawful sexual touching. She has pleaded not guilty.

The former health teacher is said to have had a relationship with the student at Kennebunk High School in Alfred, Maine, in 2017.

Trial is scheduled to begin on July 23.

IF you've grown tired of your woman staring at the fit hunks on Love Island and the footballers at the World Cup, fear not... because OVERWEIGHT fellas last LONGER in the bedroom.

A new study by researchers at Erciyes University in Turkey found a surprising 'plus' for being a little larger that doctors won't be telling you.

Their results showed that despite carrying a bit more chub than recommended, overweight blokes last for an average of 7.3 MINUTES between the sheets.

That's a whopping TWO MINUTES more than the average bloke – even the super-fit ones boasting rippling abs and eye-popping biceps.

By BECCA STUBBS

becca@sundaysport.co.uk

Science has weighed in and calculated exactly how much time the average couple should be spending when they're shagging.

Dr Brendan Zietsch, from the University of Queensland, conducted a study which revealed 5.4 minutes was the amount of time couples should spend bonking.

He observed 500 couples from around the world and participants had to press 'start' when they started penetration and 'stop' when they'd spurted their spunk.

The study found sex lasts anywhere between a measly 33 seconds to a marathon 44 minutes, with the average time being 5.4 minutes.

Interestingly, the research also explored which chaps were lasting longer and whether wearing a condom affected the outcome.

Beer

Older men weren't able to last longer than young ones, but the results did bust a popular myth – as wearing condoms or being circumcised had zero effect on the time it took to cum.

Dr Zietsch said: "Another surprising finding was that the older the couple, the shorter the sex, contrary to the prevailing wisdom."

Although it was found that overweight fellas lasted longer than the average Joe, with a bit of a belly having no impact on their shagging.

In a survey last year, Lovehoney found that couples thought half-an-hour was the ideal length of a sex session.

That's almost 25 minutes longer than the time average couples actually spend bonking, according to Dr Zietsch's results.

We asked three Sport stunnas what they thought of the results...

#SEX HEALTH

Get an hour in the sun for a hotter sex life!

By BECCA STUBBS
becca@sundaysport.co.uk

BRITAIN has basked in sunshine and warm weather for weeks and a recent study suggests it's not only boosting our tans and our moods but also our SEX LIVES.

Scientists have claimed that spending just ONE HOUR in the sun is enough to heat things up between the sheets.

It's all down to vitamin D, often dubbed the sex vitamin, which we get from sun exposure.

Several studies have linked vitamin D, or a lack of it, to changes in your sex drive.

Aly Dilks, a sexual health expert at The Women's Health Clinic, explained: "We know that people can suffer from Seasonal Affective Disorder (SAD) in the winter, so the sun is hugely important for our wellbeing.

In terms of the chemicals it stimulates, testosterone is the one most responsible for our sex drive and studies show that the sun is a great factor in its production.

Think back to caveman times, those men catching animals out in the sun all day still needed the energy to come back and procreate to save their race. This is nature at its rawest."

A vitamin D deficiency can cause low oestrogen levels in women, resulting in a low sex drive, and a lack of the vital vitamin also has the same impact on men as they lose testosterone.

Hornier

Spending a little time out in the sun can change all of that, boosting sex hormones ready for some summer loving.

Aly added: "Research has shown that men suffering from a low sex drive only need 30 minutes' exposure over a two-week period to increase their sex drive.

"With this heatwave, that means there's every excuse to be spending our days in the sunshine – and our nights between the cool sheets."

Sport stunner Laura Cooke says the study's results are music to her ears.

She said: "I love summer, the long nights and the warm days, but I think this is the best one I've ever seen.

"The sun isn't going anywhere and it's perfect! Me and my fella have been sunbathing in our garden after work and we've been getting very hands-on.

"This study is absolutely right, we've never had more sex than we have over the past few weeks – we can't keep our hands off each other.

"The heat only makes us hornier and, before the sun's had time to go down, we're rolling around romping on the lawn.

"Everyone needs to get some vitamin D and then women can get the real big D – their fella's dicks!"

#MY SEX FANTASY

'I can't stop thinking about orgies!'

By BECCA STUBBS
becca@sundaysport.co.uk

SEX-MAD Sammy May reckons she might be addicted to ORGIES – even though she's never been to one!

The 32DD beauty, from Maidenhead, Kent, said she constantly fantasises about being in a room with at least 20 other people who are shagging and taking turns on each other. And she confessed that whenever she has sex or masturbates, thinking about being in the middle of an orgy is guaranteed to get her off.

The 22-year-old model said: "I don't know what it is but recently I just can't stop myself thinking about orgies.

"I want to be surrounded by naked bodies all writhing and orgasming together.

Pounding

"I really want to be able feel a big cock pounding away as I watch loads of other people going at it all around me.

"I imagine the sounds and the smells – and then within seconds I am totally wet.

"If my man is shagging me and I'm not quite getting there then I switch my fantasy on and literally within seconds I am having an orgasm.

"I'm going to have to do it for real because it's taking over my life.

"I think I might be addicted to the idea of an orgy – I definitely want to try it in real life."

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Bexi,

ONE evening myself and my fella's best mate were in mine all alone. We were watching a blue movie and I could tell by the bulge in his trousers that he was really enjoying what he was seeing.

I joked that I did not mind if he wanted a wank, and he said he would if I'd show him mine.

The playful atmosphere suddenly became mucky as he pulled his thick nine-inch from inside his trousers.

I bent in front of him with my arse in the air as I slowly slipped my fingers in and out of my fanny.

Then I felt him entering me and he thrust into me hard for about five minutes before ejaculating.

Afterwards I told him to keep his trap shut and never tell anyone. But now he says he wants a regular session and I'm worried he'll tell my fella.

Help!

Bexi says...

DON'T go behind your fella's back again. Try to reason with this guy.

Dear Bexi,

I HAVE been seeing a bloke for a few months and everything seemed to be going fine. The sex is good and he always makes sure I've had an orgasm before he shoots his load.

But one night at the pub, he suddenly spanked my arse in front of all his friends.

It made me feel uncomfortable, but I didn't say anything because I didn't want to make a scene while he and his mates were having a good laugh about it.

When we got back to his place, he tried to spank me again in bed and I told him to stop.

Then he did it again.

I went absolutely crazy at him. He has now promised he will never do this to me again!

But what if he does?

NG, Dorset

Bexi says...

YOU could experiment but don't do anything you don't want to do.

Blonde babe went wild about leaked sex tape

Dear Bexi,

I'M a mature student, aged 28, and I have been going out with a gorgeous 19-year-old blonde for six months.

She has an amazing sex drive that I can only just about keep up with.

A couple of weeks ago we made our first ever sex video, where I had to take the role of director and tell her to do all the things I'd seen in the usual homemade porn movies.

I know it sounds corny but she was wearing a black pin-striped suit with a mini-skirt over a crisp white blouse. Underneath were a pair of fishnet stockings.

She lifted her tiny skirt to reveal her trimmed pussy and began teasing her clitoris with circular motions before I boned her brains out.

The problem is my mates got hold of my mobile and have seen the vid and now she's furious.

What can I do?

TC, Derby

Bexi says...

BUY her some flowers and tell her how sorry you are.

CLARA G

LORRY driver Paul Hamilton explained that naughty blonde Clara G really gets his engine revving after he emailed us begging for a glimpse of her sweater-stretching pair.

The 32-year-old, from Portsmouth, emailed in desperate for another peek at 31-year-old exotic beauty Clara's norts.

Clara, originally from Bucharest, has clearly got Paul's gears grinding and he said: "I've been buying the paper for years and I have to say she's probably my favourite glamour girl you've printed.

"It would mean a hell of a lot if you could throw in some more pictures of her."

We've put in a picture just for you Paul – but make sure you don't get distracted by it while driving, instead pull over for a proper gander.

VERONIKA ZEMANOVA

CITY slicker Howard Jones fancies a slice of posh totty Veronika Zemanova and her impressive knockers.

Howard, 49, a security guard in Canary Wharf, London, says reading the Sport is his secret habit and he's gagging for one more look at 31-year-old Chelsea lass Veronika.

He said: "We're both in the city but I've never bumped into her – I'd know if I'd seen that gorgeous woman!"

"I'd happily splash the cash on a night with her. She's a real sexpot and just one look at her 30G boobs gets me going."

VERENA TWIGG

BINMAN Fred Oldman has asked us to have a rummage around for a few more pics of his favourite glamour model, Verena Twigg.

The 46-year-old fella, from Shrewsbury, Shropshire, penned a letter to the Midweek Sport asking to see Blackburn-born Verena, 30, flaunting her 34D boobs.

He said: "I spend all day wading through rubbish, so when I get home I like to look at something beautiful – like Verena's perfect body."

"She's got a gorgeous face and beautiful, big boobs. She can have a ride in my bin wagon any time."

#CAM GIRL OF THE WEEK

FELLAS, you might need to cool off after staring at Babestation beauty Felicity Hill because she FANTASISES about putting on a LESBIAN show on her webcam.

The 27-year-old stunner posed up a storm in this kinky photo shoot and, although she looks scorching hot, she dreams about giving her fans double trouble in a saucy lesbian session.

Felicity, from High Wycombe, London, flaunted her 30D knockers in these completely starker shots and it's just a tiny taste of what she really has to offer online.

She said: "There's no better feeling than knowing you're being recorded.

Porn

"It makes you try that bit harder than you normally would and you step up your game.

"I love being naked. As you can see from my pictures, I don't have a problem taking my clothes off!"

And Felicity confessed: "I do watch porn sometimes. Normally some girl-on-girl action or something like that.

"But making your own little naughty videos is much better than watching it on a screen.

"I'd love to get to grips with another woman while a man watches. Then maybe later he can come over and join in.

"I'm just waiting for the right offer..."

If Felicity has got you feeling all hot under the collar, log on to Babestation to catch her and a whole HOST of other babes stripping off just for you.

DJOKOVIC, FEDERER AND NADAL MAKE LAST EIGHT

By NED PERRY

TENNIS's Old Firm are gearing up for another assault on Wimbledon today.

Rafael Nadal, Novak Djokovic and Roger Federer are all in the quarter-finals and the bookies make it long odds-on that one of them will win the title.

It's particularly positive for Djokovic, who has come back fighting after two years struggling with injuries that would have ended most careers.

He takes on Kei Nishikori who is making history himself by being the first Japanese player to make the last eight of all the Majors.

Djokovic admits he's had to deal with massive amounts of frustration after the past couple of seasons.

He said: "It was quite a strange feeling for me not to be able to deliver my game that I know I possess, that I know I've been delivering for so many years. It was frustrating.

"But I had to trust the process. I'm still part of that process. But things are looking much better in the last month and a half."

Clay court king Nadal has never been totally at home on grass — even though he's lifted the SW19 title twice.

He has played well at Wimbledon so far and mashed Czech player Jiri Vesely in straight sets.

The Spaniard said: "Of course it's an important result for me. It's true that it has been a while since I have been in that position but at the same time I have been in that position a couple of times in my career.

"When I come here, I come here thinking I can do a good result."

As for Federer, he turns 37 just after the end of Wimbledon but is showing no signs of age catching up with him.

He'd be just a couple of weeks younger than the oldest Grand Slam winner of the open era if he manages to take the title on Sunday.

Ken Rosewall was 37 years and two months old when he won the 1972 Australian Open — in a time when the game was played with wooden racquets and was a good deal slower than today.

Federer has enjoyed plenty of highs at Wimbledon and made it an amazing 32 sets in a row when battering Adrian Mannarino to make his 16th quarter-final at SW19.

He hasn't gone on a streak like that in more than 10 years. He said: "I feel like these streaks just happen."

"You can't plan for them anyway because one point can change the outcome of a set."

"Of course, if you give yourself maximum chances, you're playing well, you have super focus, then these streaks are possible."

"I would be equally happy if I had won all the matches in four sets. That it happened to be in straights, it helps me for the season, it helps me to save energy for the rest of the tournament."

"I don't think it's something anybody aims for, to win every match in straight sets."

IN TOON: Kenedy

Loan star Kenedy back at the Toon

NEWCASTLE are on the verge of signing Kenedy on loan for another season. Chelsea are happy for the Brazilian forward to rejoin the Toon after his big impact on them last term.

His performances after January were a big factor in Newcastle climbing away from the relegation zone.

The Toon had wanted to sign the 22-year-old on a permanent deal.

But they didn't want to stump up the £30million fee demanded by the Londoners.

So it will be a loan – possibly to include a clause to make the move permanent at some point in the future.

Kenedy is the third deal done by Newcastle gaffer Rafa Benitez.

But he is still shopping in the bargain basement, picking up Swansea's Ki-Sung Yeung on a free and stumping up just £4m for goalkeeping Martin Dubravka.

Benitez knows that won't be enough but his other targets would also cost relative buttons.

Budget

He wants French striker Alassane Plea for around £15m and West Brom's Solomon Rondon.

The Baggies paid around £14m for him three years ago and want a similar figure to let him go.

That doesn't seem a lot for a Premier League striker and it must be killing Benitez to have such a small budget.

Reports in Spain suggest that he would like to leave St James's Park but is trapped in a "golden" position.

He has a £6m compo clause in his contract with the Toon and that's putting off other teams.

That even ruled him out of the running to become the next Spain manager before ex-Barcelona boss Luis Enrique surprisingly took the job.

Insiders say he is only staying in the north-east because of loyalty to the club's fans – and the hope that big-money owners will come in and take over from Mike Ashley.

That looked close to happening earlier this year but talks have gone quiet.

Benitez has one year left on his deal and is unlikely to be signing another one.

NEW SAINT:
Gunn is poised
for a move to St Mary's

SOUTHAMPTON boss Mark Hughes is on the verge of pulling off a double deal.

Sparky has already been busy this summer, splashing the cash on Stuart Armstrong from Celtic and Basel forward Mohamed Elyounoussi for a combined £23million.

Now he wants to add promising Manchester City goalkeeper Angus Gunn and Borussia Monchengladbach centre-back Jannik Vestergaard.

That would take Hughes' spending past the £50m mark as Southampton rebuild after flirting with relegation last season.

Gunn – son of former Norwich and Scotland keeper Bryan – will cost £13.5m with a fee agreed.

City boss Pep Guardiola would have liked to keep the

By PAUL THOMAS

England Under-21 stopper but he's effectively the No4 at the Etihad and there seems little prospect of the 22-year-old getting much Premier League gametime behind Brazil No1 Ederson.

Joe Hart and Claudio Bravo are also at the championships so Guardiola can afford to let him go.

Gunn played all 46 games on loan at Norwich last season and impressed enough to be called into Gareth Southgate's full England squad.

Vestergaard will cost around £20m from the Germans and was having his medical at St Mary's last night.

The Danish international has yet to agree personal terms but is expected to complete his move today.

Vestergaard was a regular for Monchengladbach in the Champions League and was in the Denmark squad for the World Cup but spent all four matches on the bench.

Hughes was brought in to Southampton late last season and managed to save them from the drop.

The Welshman is clearly determined to avoid flirting with relegation this season.

Churn

He believes his transfer dealings mean the squad is much improved.

Hughes said: "It's important fresh faces come in."

"It's not necessarily deliberate but as a consequence of players moving on, contracts finishing."

"There's an opportunity to bring players in. There's always a churn at the end of the year."

"It's good for the whole group just because new faces stimulate the group and players like to show each other they're good players, so when the new ones come in the ones here already up their game and the new ones want to impress."

"You'd like to think everything rises at the club as a consequence."

Southampton spent big money last summer under Mauricio Pellegrino but most of his signings were flops.

Hughes is doing his best to avoid that happening again.

He added: "You can't always get it right but you do as much due diligence as you can. This club do more than most, I have to say."

"In terms of the two news guys who have come in, the first impressions are that they're very level, they're very humble but they're determined to be successful here."

"They won't have any problem whatsoever integrating. The key is that they're good players and when other good players see good players come into the group my experience is that they are embraced and they're helped."

Hughes is trying to bring in players that have experience of high-level football.

Level

Both Elyounoussi and Armstrong have Champions League experience and come from clubs that have won plenty of trophies in recent seasons.

Hughes hopes that winning mentality will rub off on the other Saints.

He added: "The Premier League is a different level for them both but you gain a winning mindset, you get used to winning games every week.

"Sometimes, when things start to go against you, sometimes you have to refer back to those memories to get you out of that spiral you've been in before."

"It's good that they're used to winning. They're used to high profile games — they've both played in Champions League games."

"That will help them because they will face players they faced in the Champions League, so it's not going to faze them."

"They've performed well against Premier League teams in the Champions League, so I'm looking forward to them progressing their careers and developing further because they come to us as very good players but now we've got the platform for them to become even better."

With the big Premier

League kick-off less than a month away, other clubs are starting to get moving.

■ LIVERPOOL have again been linked with a megabucks deal for Juventus playmaker Paulo Dybala.

Newspapers in Argentina are reporting that the Reds are about to make an £80m move for a player who would be an ideal replacement for Phillippe Coutinho.

Dream

Kop boss Jurgen Klopp wants an attacking midfielder to replace the Brazilian who went to Barcelona last term.

A deal for France star Nabil Fekir — who is similar to Dybala — almost went through before the World Cup.

There's every chance the Lyon player will be wearing a red shirt this season after saying Liverpool would be his dream move once the World Cup is over.

The French club's president says he won't stand in Fekir's way if he wants to join the Merseysiders for around £50m.

■ Across Stanley Park, EVERTON are about to launch an audacious bid for Crystal Palace forward Wilfried Zaha.

The Toffees are willing to splash £70m to break their transfer record and bag the former Manchester United ace.

Should they make a bid, it's expected that TOTTENHAM will enter the fray and would be much more likely to get the deal done.

Several clubs in Europe would also be interested, with Borussia Dortmund in particular on the radar.

However, it would take a lot for Palace boss Roy Hodgson to let his prized asset leave.

BIG CALL: Zaha and Hodgson

SIGNED UP: Nuno Santo

Wolves boss pens new deal for Prem

PREMIER League new boys Wolves have tied down highly-rated boss Nuno Espirito Santo to a three-year contract.

The 44-year-old is one of the rising stars of the coaching game but has pledged his future to Molineux until at 2021.

He steered the Midlanders back into the top-flight with one of the most convincing Championship wins in years.

The whole backroom team have signed the same deal.

Nuno said: "I am very thankful because of the trust and the confidence that the club puts in us as a technical team.

"My team really work as a team. First of all we are friends, we respect each other, we admire each other and we work for the same goal.

"That goal is to find every detail we can to help the team to perform well, compete well, and fortunately win.

"We knew that the project required time and now we have three years ahead of us of contract, and we are very thankful and delighted to be here.

Compete

"When we came to the club there was a big challenge in front of us. I think the Championship is one of the most challenging competitions in the world.

"We started with the ambition to have a team that could compete in every game and create an identity that was a shape that allowed us to go through the competition playing the same style.

"We did it, and we achieved what we wanted. We have a team, and we are in the Premier League, we are now in year two."

Nuno knows it will be even tougher to stay in the Premier League than it was getting there.

He added: "We have to develop the performance of some players, getting them to a higher level, and at the same time we will increase the quality.

"Of course the squad is going to change.

"We need to bring in players and we will do so, but it is very difficult to find the right ones, because the quality that we have already is high.

"There are other things we have to look at: the quality of the player, the ambition of the player, and the will to come to Wolves and help this big club become even bigger."

England can edge way to the final

THIS is a vintage time for English football and one we should treasure.

Having won the Under 20s and Under 17s World Cup in 2017, England play Croatia in Moscow this evening as one of only three nations who can be crowned world champions.

A great achievement, but I can't see the journey ending this evening despite the obvious quality of the opposition.

Croatia must be feeling the mental and physical effects of going into extra-time and penalties against both Denmark and Russia in the knockout stages and I think England will edge past the Croats in a game where I expect to see goals — with the Three Lions having more than their fair share.

England are 5/4 at BetVictor to win in 90 minutes with the Croats 12/5 and draw at 21/10. We know all about the class of Luka Modric and Ivan Rakitic in midfield but we have our own Golden Generation and I am convinced we are the better side.

I know I might get sent to the Tower but I want to see more attacking threat from Harry Kane in open play. Yes, he has scored six times in the competition but as well as being a great goalscorer Kane is the scorer of great goals and I want him to step up to the plate tonight.

Kane is 31/10 to score the opening goal with BetVictor

19/2 FOR 2-1 WIN LOOKS GOOD

and 13/10 to find the back of the net at some stage during the 90+ minutes. Raheem Sterling's performances certainly merit a goal and the City forward is 13/2 to open the scoring and 14/5 to get the elusive goal.

Croatia have scored in their last nine World Cup games and both teams to score at Evens looks too big. Eight of England's 11 goals in Russia have come from set-pieces while 75% (3 of 4) of goals conceded by Croatia has come via set-pieces.

Gareth Southgate's side will have long periods without the ball, such is the quality of opposition, but must not get frustrated. The first goal could be vital and I expect England to get it!

There might be occasions when Croatia look the better team. That is irrelevant — what matters is the final score and I think England will win 2-1 which is 19/2 at BetVictor.

This is the fourth time all four semi-finalists have been European — on three occasions the winners have been Italy.

The other was 1966 and we all know who won then!

There are just three games left before the winner of the Million Pound Bet is confirmed.

The bar is set high in the quest for the guaranteed £1,000,000 first prize but there are three £5,000 daily winners up for grabs for those who don't want to shoot for the Million.

For a minimum stake of £1 the winning bet (singles only) with the highest winning odds during the tournament will win £1,000,000 — check The Million Pound Bet leaderboard.

I was fascinated to read that Joe Hart played cricket for Shrewsbury in the Birmingham Premier League on Saturday rather than watching the Three Lions against Sweden.

It is fair to say that the 31-year-old who batted nine and scored six from 11 balls — as his side chased "quick runs" for a declaration — and didn't turn his arm over is unlikely to be playing either football or cricket for England in the short term.

England were thrashed by India in the last T20 at Bristol on Sunday despite scoring 198 although it should have been more given the start they got.

The first ODI between the teams takes place at Trent Bridge tomorrow (1.30 start) and it promises to be an absolute belter between two of the best sides in the world.

England look a better side in 50-over cricket than in the 20-over version and are marginal favourites at 31/20 with India Evens. Whatever happens in Moscow this evening it promises to be a wonderful occasion in Nottingham with India likely to have more than their fair share of support.

Men's quarter-final day — at Wimbledon and I have been impressed with Kevin Anderson so far, this tournament.

The South African won 82% of first serve points against Gael Monfils in the fourth round on Monday and I just think he might take a set off the incomparable Federer who is 8/11 to lift the title for a ninth time on Sunday.

Federer to beat Anderson in four sets is 5/2 at BetVictor and that is the recommendation.

HE CAN DO IT: Sterling

HAPPY HAMMER: Wilshere

Jack Wil be big success booms Pelle

WEST HAM boss Manuel Pellegrini has no fears about new signing Jack Wilshere's injury record.

The England midfielder has penned a three-year deal with the east Londoners and will be a major asset — if he gets on the pitch enough.

The 26-year-old has had a nightmare with injuries over the past three years but played a full part in Arsenal's last campaign.

New Hammers gaffer Pellegrini is backing him to play for many more years and is looking forward to having him in his side.

The Chilean said: "At 26, he still has many years of football in front of him, and I believe he will be a great asset for us.

"We are very happy to welcome Jack to West Ham United and I look forward to working with him, starting at our training camp here in Switzerland.

Special

"Jack is a player with excellent technical ability, combined with great energy and commitment, and has proven his quality both in the Premier League and at international level.

"Most importantly, he is hungry to play for West Ham, and determined to reproduce the level of performance that he has shown in the past."

Wilshere is the fifth new face in the Hammers squad after Issa

BACKING: Pellegrini

Diop, Lukasz Fabianski, Ryan Fredericks and Sebastian Nebyla arrived in the past few weeks.

Wilshere himself has a point to prove and can't wait to silence the doubters by joining the club he supported as a boy.

He said: "It feels good, it feels special to be here.

"Many people know that I've had a special bond with this club growing up.

"People will have seen the picture of me in a West Ham shirt and I've got good memories of my childhood supporting West Ham, watching them at Upton Park.

"It feels good and of course my family and a few of my friends are West Ham fans so everyone's buzzing.

"Everyone knows how big West Ham's fanbase is — and especially in this new stadium. Not many clubs could fill it week in, week out, and West Ham do."

WHAT ABOUT THE CROATS? LATEST FROM ENGLAND'S OPPONENTS

ALL MOD CONS:
Modric is the complete
midfielder

LUKA GOES ON A LION HUNT

LUKA Modric can't wait to face England today.

The former Tottenham midfielder has grown into one of the best performers in Europe since signing for Real Madrid.

The 32-year-old is in the running for player of the tournament after some sparkling displays in Croatia's run to their semi against the Three Lions.

Modric is well known from his time in north London and is the key man at the Luzhniki Stadium.

He said: "Always playing England is special."

"They're a great team, doing a great tournament so far, like us."

"They're suffering less, but showed against Sweden the great quality they have and we're expecting a tough match — but we will be ready."

Modric is hopeful of making the final but believes the growing expectation at home will finally transfer itself through to the Three Lions players.

By ANDY MILLOM

He added: "With England, it's always pressure."

Croatia have plenty of star players, including striker Mario Mandzukic of Italian giants Juventus.

He is convinced that Modric has been the best player on show at the World Cup — and fully deserves to win the coveted Golden Ball.

He said: "I've known Luka for a number of years, not only from the national team.

"He deserves all the accolades he gets, from the media and public."

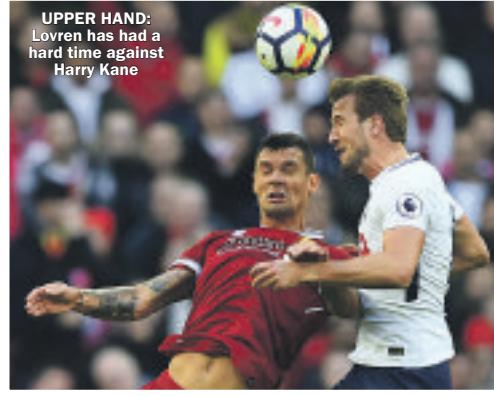

"He's worked very hard to get to this point, he's our captain and leader and if the team manages a great result and he gets the Golden Ball, he would deserve it."

Former Croatia manager and captain Slaven Bilic thinks it's Modric's midfield partner who really needs to pull the strings against England.

He is looking to Barcelona ace Ivan Rakitic to cause England problems.

UPPER HAND:
Lovren has had a hard time against
Harry Kane

Bilic said: "He has a huge personality."

"He has that determination and work ethic, but above everything is his skill."

"His technique is unbelievable. He doesn't have great pace but he has a great brain and a terrific first touch. He understands the game."

"In the early days, he was a No10 and he played in that position for Sevilla, where he was their captain when they won the Europa League in 2014."

"He changed to his new position when he went to Barcelona and that transformation helped him become a complete midfielder."

"Modric takes the eye but Rakitic sacrifices himself for the team. He is humble and quite happy to do the donkey work."

"His biggest strength, though, is when he has the ball. He has a terrific shot on him and can take a great free-kick."

Another interesting match-up will be between Croatia centre-back Dejan Lovren and Harry Kane.

The Spurs man had had the Liverpool stopper on toast the past two times they faced each other.

Lovren was so bad in the Premier League game at Wembley that he was dragged off after half an hour.

Things weren't a lot better in the Anfield return when he pulled down Kane to give away a crucial penalty. England will be hoping to torment him again.

The Three Lions will be hoping for a repeat of their past two competitive matches against Croatia.

They spanked them 4-1 and 5-1 in qualifying for the 2010 World Cup.

None of the England team that night — which featured the likes of Steven Gerrard, John Terry and Frank Lampard — are still in the squad.

However, it was Croatia that helped coin the "Wally with a Brolly" phrase after beating Steve McClaren's England at Wembley to deny them a place at Euro 2008.

ENGLAND FLOP:
Fabio Capello

England are my favourites says Capello

FORMER England boss Fabio Capello has backed the Three Lions for glory at the World Cup.

He believes their success is down to manager Gareth Southgate, along with having "fast lads" and a "goalkeeper who saves".

Despite his abject failure at the 2014 World Cup where England didn't make it out of the groups under his leadership, Capello is still a highly respected coach.

He believes the current England squad will make it to the final by seeing off Croatia tonight.

Capello said: "They have fast lads and a great manager."

"Southgate understood that he'd go home with two central defenders, so he put three."

"He's finally found a goalkeeper who saves — Pickford has reactions and positional sense."

Capello believes Southgate has got his tactics spot-on for international football.

Talent

His relative lack of club management experience seems to be helping him on that score.

The Italian added: "He is helped by a context like the Premier League in which clubs launch youngsters without being conditioned."

"The talent was there, but his intuition was Maguire in a three-man defence, the choice of Pickford and managing tension."

"I think it will be France v England in the final and in that case I see England GOING: Gazza as favourites to win that match."

England legends are queuing up to lend their support to the current crop of Three Lions.

They will be happy to see Gazza in the stands in the Luzhniki Stadium tonight.

The England legend is being whisked by private jet by the Football Association so he can see the match in Moscow.

He's backed his former team-mate to go all the way to the final.

Gasoigne said: "Gareth, well done mate, you're doing well."

"Stick to what you're doing. I'm behind you."

"I don't know what you're saying in the dressing room but it's working."

"The players are fearless, but they're playing Croatia and they are a class team."

"All the England players have got to do is watch each other's back."

"Every single one of them has to be a captain on the field."

IT'S COMING HOME! WORLD CUP:

PRIDE OF FIRES BOSS UP!

Southgate desperate to steer

GARETH SOUTHGATE SAYS HIS PLAYERS ARE LOVING PUTTING THE PRIDE BACK INTO ENGLISH FOOTBALL.

The Three Lions gaffer has taken his team to the brink of their first World Cup final since that glorious day back in 1966.

The 52 years of hurt, near misses, penalty shootout disasters and cock-ups will melt away if England can beat Croatia in Moscow tonight.

Southgate has no illusions about how much is riding on the game and is desperate to make the England fans even more delirious than they already are. The manager said:

"We have had a chance to make a difference as our country has suffered for a long time in football."

"We are really proud of the support we are receiving."

"Even I cannot remember that far back to 1966."

"We are enjoying the journey, we are enjoying our football and we are one of the youngest and least experienced teams in the tournament. We were not sure how far we will go."

"The hunger has been apparent to see and we are proud of our style and we have performed under pressure and dealt with difficult situations."

Missed

"We have scored in the last minute, we have won on penalties so we have made several pieces of history including a biggest win, first win in the opening game and first win in a knockout stages for a decade."

Southgate may not be able to remember 1966 but he was a key part of England's run to the European championships semi-finals 30 years later. Of course it ended in heartache for the then Aston Villa defender who missed his penalty in the shootout against Germany.

Southgate added: "The feel of this group of players is similar to what we had then in 1996. That team was more experienced but had tactical understanding."

"That team had six captains of clubs but we have approached the tournament in the same way."

"The lads have learnt along the way but it is the next step along the journey, our preparation for each matches has been the same."

England into World Cup final

Football is a low scoring game with random events that can happen and I have complete trust they can play like we have done in the tournament."

Jordan Henderson rather than Harry Kane flanked the gaffer on the final press call before the semi.

Outstanding

The Liverpool skipper has been more than a vice-captain to Harry Kane — he has kept the players going as much as the Tottenham striker has led by example.

Southgate can't speak highly enough of the midfielder, whose stock has risen markedly during the World Cup run.

The boss said: "Jordan is a player who has been underestimated for some time.

"He is an outstanding person with outstanding leadership qualities. The quality of his game has gone to another level this season."

Henderson is going for an impressive 30 games without defeat in an England shirt.

It's typical of him to say: "I don't win on my own, we win as a team. I want to win, we want to win as a team."

England go into the game well drilled but Henderson knows it will be a tough test against the Croatians.

He added: "I cannot tell you our plan. I have played against Luka Modric a few times and he is world class player, hopefully he has a quiet night."

It's not just Henderson that Southgate has been impressed with in Russia.

He said: "We have got players who have won trophies and played in finals."

Jesse Lingard and Marcus Rashford have already won a European final even though they are young.

"We talk about their preparations but sometimes it is more powerful for them to hear from their own teammates.

"We have to keep things normal as possible but there are things that can affect us outside of our circle."

Level

"We have been tucked away in our base, families have come in but the preparation has been identical. You do not have to change things, you do not have to find another level, if you can perform at your own level than can be enough.

"We have hit a good level of performance in the last couple of matches."

Roo can do in the semis says Wazza

WAYNE Rooney is backing England to make their first World Cup final since 1966.

The former Three Lions captain has thrown his weight right behind Gareth Southgate — even though he booted him out of the squad immediately after taking over from Sam Allardyce.

Rooney has just signed for DC United in America and was forced to miss much of the dramatic win against Sweden because he was training.

But there are no problems for the semi-final because the match takes place in the afternoon Washington time so he can watch the whole game.

It's easy to forget that Rooney played his part in getting England to the finals in Russia and he's the nation's highest scorer of all-time with 59 goals from his 119 caps.

However much he must wish to be playing against Croatia in Moscow tonight, he is only sending his support to the squad.

Rooney said: "They are doing fantastic, hopefully they can get the win."

Buzz

"I missed the first half of the quarter-final while we were training, but I got in for the second half.

"It's great and the atmosphere back home looks brilliant.

"There is a real buzz about the team and hopefully we can get the win and go right to the final.

"It's obviously here for the afternoon here for the semi-final so I'll get to watch. For the players and Gareth, I just wish them good luck.

"They are making us all proud and hopefully they can go one step further and make the final.

"I hope it is coming home. I've enjoyed all the videos going around of it. We hope and believe and with a bit of luck it will."

Another former England skipper — Stuart Pearce — is full of admiration for the lads too.

He has singled out Jordan Henderson for special praise, saying he's the real captain out on the pitch.

Pearce added: "Harry Kane is the more silent captain — Henderson is the one pointing and telling people from the centre of midfield what they should and shouldn't do."

"I think he potentially, if you asked the players, they look up to Harry Kane and what he's done and the goals he has scored, but the influence that Henderson has got will be massive in that group."

RAHEEM Sterling says England haven't hit their best form yet at the World Cup.

The Manchester City ace insists that there's more to come when the Three Lions take on Croatia in Moscow tonight.

It's their first semi-final since Italia 90 but Sterling says the players feel they are only just getting into the tournament.

He said: "We know we haven't done anything yet.

The key to winning is definitely not to think about it too much, not to let the occasion get to us.

"We have to go step by step. We go again.

"We will approach it exactly the way we have been in the training camps. Nothing will change.

"It is just another game. We just need to recreate what we did in the group stage, the last 16 and the quarter-final".
